This publication is intended to provide quick access to frequently used contact and resource information for residents of Providence District.

As part of Fairfax County's initiatives in emergency preparedness and community information, my office has compiled this directory for the residents of Providence District. We have pulled together frequently used phone numbers and addresses in addition to emergency contact information and put them all into one handbook for your convenience. These references are current as of January 1, 2007, but may be subject to change in the future.

Beyond the resources in this directory, my office is always ready to help if you need assistance. Please do not hesitate to call us at 703-560-6946 or email us at provdist@fairfaxcounty.gov with any questions that you may have.

All citizens should learn what to do in case of an emergency. This includes how to take the necessary precautions to protect yourself, your family and property. Disaster can strike quickly and without warning, requiring you to evacuate your neighborhood, or, in some cases, confine you to your home. Preparing in advance by learning what hazards may affect your community and learning how to deal with these hazards is an important part of emergency preparedness.
